Who is Who in International Protection in the EU+ Platform

The Who is Who in International Protection public platform contains interactive maps of key topics and the stakeholders involved in various stages of asylum and reception systems.

The platform presents the roles and responsibilities of actors involved in international protection in each EU+ country, in addition to their mandates as defined by national policies and legislation. The interlinks between different authorities and institutions are also outlined. The mappings also cover topics, such as implementation of temporary protection and the application of the safe country concept when processing asylum applications.

The Who is Who platform is regularly updated with new topics and data visualisations. Many of the thematic overviews have accompanying reports available in PDF.

Methodology

The information presented on the platform is gathered through desk research based on publicly-available sources and EUAA reports. Entries are validated by EU+ countries and other stakeholders, if required, for example the EUAA Consultative Forum for information from civil society organisations.
